

MARSHALL COLLEGE

Dear Mom & Dad,
I love you and love
to hear from you.
Please write soon.

Maryville College 1989

Maryville, Tennessee

Where Chilhowee's lofty mountains pierce the southern blue proudly stands our Alma Mater.
Noble, grand, and true.

Ian Brackstone really uses his head in a skillful soccer move.

Scots fans were awed by the football team while Tom Friend clowned around.

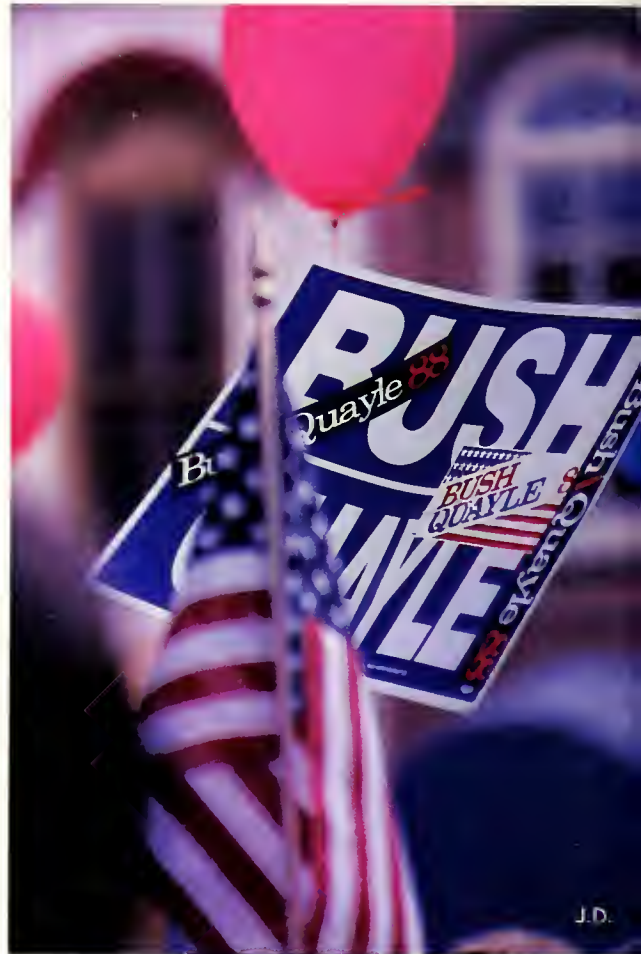

Whodunnit?!!

The fighting Scots charged onto the field ready to battle their rival.

Amy Wilson and Steve Hutton look on in amazement at Pat Hagerty's "academic" readings.

As thy hilltop crowned with cedar ever green appears.

So thy memory fresh shall linger through life's smiles and tears.

Band members add music to the air, as well as, a splash of colorful tradition at the home games.

Wendi Jo Medlin gives herself one final once-over before she departs for the Homecoming Dance.

The Freshman Inquiry Class create a true Christmas atmosphere in the Library.

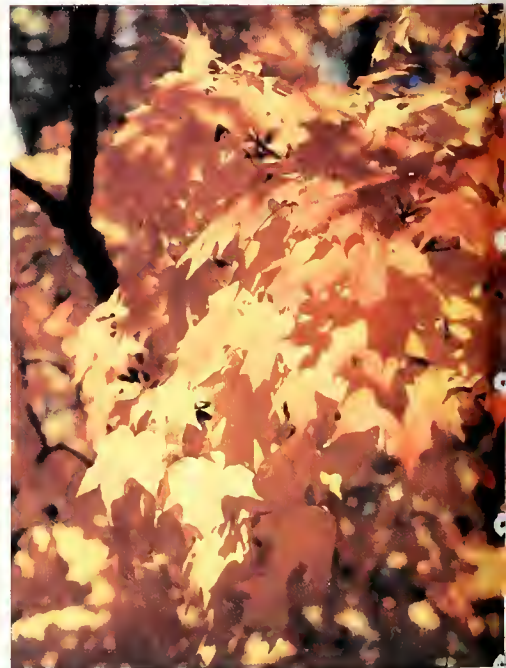

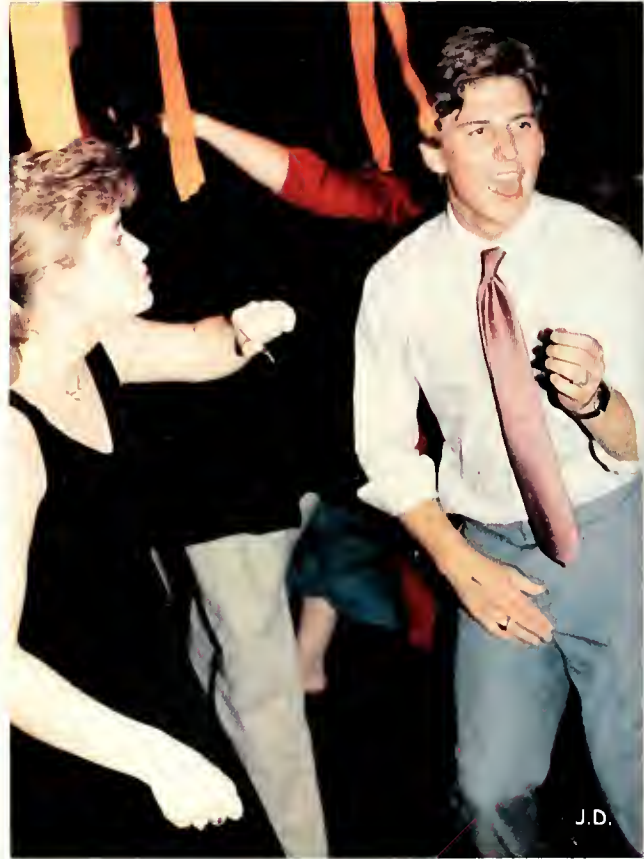

Students lined up and chowed down on Christmas turkey and fixins'.

Lori Cox gets a helping hand while puppy, Montana, receives a little TLC.

Liz Prior demonstrates that a "woman's" work is never done.

HOMECOMING

1988

Lift the chorus, wake the echoes.

T.Mc.

Hail the Queen of all the highlands loud her praises sing!

Scots determined drive yields victory.

Yong Song, shocked to disbelief, cannot seem to find the ball.

Jan Tomlin does high-stepping as the cheerleaders rouse the crowd.

Frosh carries on Scottish heritage to the "kilt."

There is no place like our home-away-from-home.

Anticipating the holidays and taking a break from finals, these students are all smiles.

Aunt Michelle Rudisill cuddles nephew and his furry friend.

Christi Brown donned her trusty helmet and met the multiple mountain challenges.

Copeland, adorned for Homecoming's Dorm Decoration Competition, captured first prize . . .

Harry, or is that "Hairy," Howard strutted his/her stuff across the field as Sr. Homecoming Queen candidate.

Fancy footwork from 33 Robert Cox stirs the crowd.

Andy Evans feigns interest while he secretly dreams of European football.

Orange, Garnet, float forever ensign of our hill!
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater
Hail to Maryville!

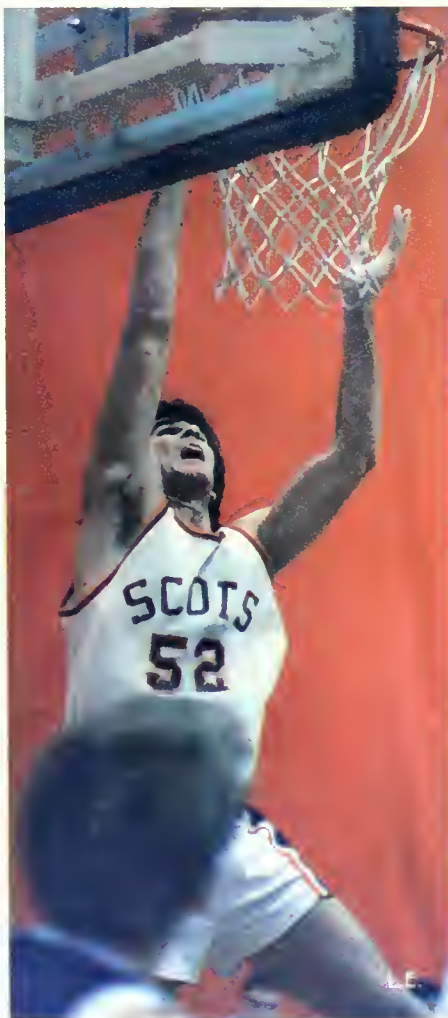

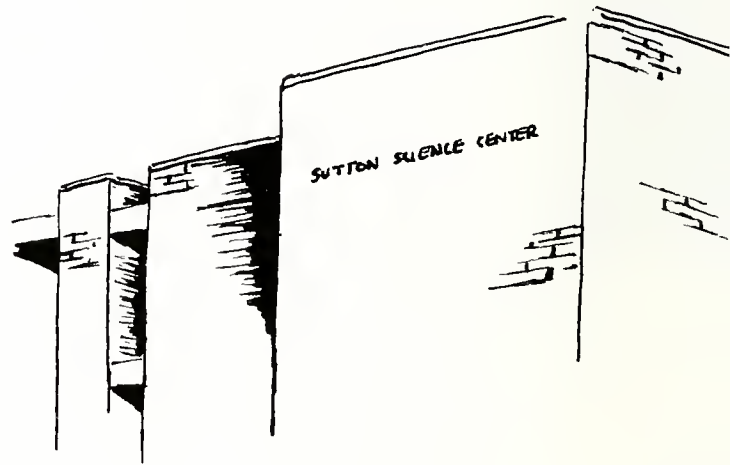

Table of Contents

Somehow . . . in different ways . . . through our cultures, our backgrounds, our personalities, our dreams, and even our failures, there is a line connecting all of us. From classes to dances, from faculty to sports, from all-nighters to "Library" lay-backs, we have shared this place, this experience, each other . . . in the search for the elusive brass ring called an Education. Follow the lines of your life in 1989. (J.D.)

Newly founded this year, our purpose is to foster and nurture the art of writing in all its various forms, primarily among ourselves and then on the college campus as a whole. We intend to achieve this end by giving honest and balanced criticism of works in progress and completed; by sharing information on competitions, publishing opportunities, and workshops; by inviting established writers onto campus for lectures and by developing our own art to its fullest possible potential. Oh, yes, and to have some fun.

The Memorandum

Vaclav Havel created in The Memorandum an artificial language called Ptydepe, introduced in order to maximize the potential for office communication while minimizing the potential for understanding. But because of Ptydepe's artificiality, its obscurity, and its impossibility to master, its introduction merely demonstrated that he (or in this case, she) who controls language controls thought and behavior.

DRAMA

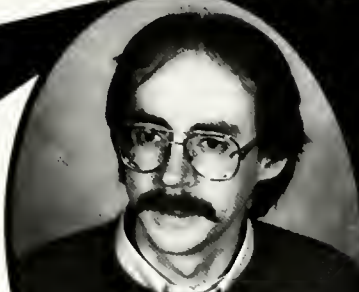

Tartuffe

Moliere's Tartuffe was controversial in its day. It showed a supposedly pious man behaving lustfully and as recent history has shown this still occurs all the time. Through Tartuffe's manipulations Moliere's keen observance of human nature reveals the plays main point: it takes two to make theatre — a clever actor and a willing spectator . . . we all want a good show, but how much are we willing to pay for it?

International Club

The International Club is a group of international and American students. They participated in a variety of activities throughout the year, including a picnic, hayride, Halloween party, and a Christmas party. During Interim, the International students decorated Pearsons and while wearing their native clothing, enjoyed a cultural dinner of foods from their homelands. As a special treat during the year, the Japanese students prepared a traditional dinner for Japanese night. The club, through these and other activities, attempts to promote understanding of cultural differences and to provide a social network for newly arrived international students. Officers: Fall President — Chuck Meek, Spring President — Abeba Wuhlb, Fall Vice President — Abeba Wuhlb, Secretary — Noriko Iwanaga

Mountain Challenge

The Mountain Challenge program provides an opportunity for students to develop their problem-solving skills and to foster group trust. Participants learn to strengthen themselves physically as well as mentally, in order to complete the challenges presented. The lessons learned are those that may be carried over to the classroom and used in everyday life. The Mountain Challenge program includes rock climbing, rappelling, kayaking, ropes courses, and hiking.

Interim

In an atmosphere which fosters innovation, students and faculty probe within and beyond their specialties in order to develop a sense of perspective and the humanizing qualities of wonder, appreciation, sensitivity, and responsibility. New York and the Smoky Mountains were highlights for off-campus experiences. Other students learned to better express their creativity in on-campus classes, such as Eurythmics and "I See." Interim is a time for students to discover themselves and their otherwise hidden talents.

Who's Who at MC

Mr. and Ms. Maryville College: Jesse Robinette and Amy Wilson. Chosen from 38 contestants, Jesse and Amy were selected based on ratings in Swimsuit, Evening Wear, Sports Wear, and Personal Interview categories. Amy was especially surprised about receiving her title. "This was the first beauty pageant I had ever entered. I think of myself as an athletic person and certainly did not expect to win."

Paige Doster was chosen as the 1989 Homecoming Queen. Paige said after receiving this honor, "It was a nice feeling to be chosen by my peers." She added that the event was more meaningful because she was escorted by her father.

Alpha Lambda Delta is a national honor society for freshmen. Students must have at least a 3.5 gpa to be eligible. Officers for 1988-89: Denise Amann (P), Ann Beaty (VP), Eileen Freund (Sec), Lynn Burgin (Treas), Kathy Anderson (Hist). New members for 1989-90 include: Bobby Anderson, Brian Austin, Cassie Burns, Carol Callaway, Yvonne Constantino, Mike Dmaron, Jennifer Danner, Christi Ferguson, Laura Field, David Fletcher, Janet Gehlbach, Kim Hicks, J.P. Johnson, Wendy Layne, Cindy Lemmons, Lisa Locke, Stephanie McClure, Melissa Masingo, Missy Pankake, Denise Pass, Heather Smith, Jennifer Stanley, and Naoko Umeda.

Lissa McLeod, the 1989 Outstanding Senior Award recipient, is a music major specializing in piano. She was involved in many extracurricular activities and excelled academically as well. According to Lissa, high points of college life involved her student recitals and relationships with others. Her future goals focus on personal growth, working with others, enjoying music and literature, and eventually continuing her education.

The varied social events at MC allowed students time to forget studies, meet new people, and "chill" for a while. Homecoming, The Jamaica Dance, Psycho Dance, 100 Days Celebration, and Spring Fling were a few of the evenings that gave MC the opportunity to "party hearty."

Celebrations

All College Council

The ACC, under direction of President Richard Ferrin and Student Senate President Jon Allison, remained the college's highest governing body. The ACC's primary concerns this year were academics, the new alcohol policy, and a new governance policy. ACC members include: Dr. Charlotte Beck, Dr. Dean Boldon, Dr. Scott Brunger, Marthe Craig, Bill Etling, Martha Hess, Dr. Harry Howard, Eldria Hurst, Dr. Wally Lewis, Dr. John Nichols, Leslie Nier, Lynn Burgin, Jennifer Greenawalt, Sabine Hutchinson, Kevin Lynch, and Chris Varner.

The 1988-89 Student Senate found its campus roles expanding. Service projects included voter registration and education in the Medic blood drive. The Senate also influenced decisions concerning the alcohol and governance policies, the food service contract, and the student activity fee. Members include: Jon Allison (P), Jennifer Greenawalt (VP), Joe Johnson (Budget), Christi Self (Sec), Scott Snyder (Treas), Floyd Dingman (Parl), Sabine Hutchison, Aelfraed Chiverton, Lissa McLeod, Dave Reed, Jan Tomlin, Lynn Burgin, Mike Moore, Chris Varner, Rees Cramer, Jay Malone, Heidi Hoffecker, Becky Shakelford, Kevin Lynch, Leslie Nier, Tina Stanley, and Dan Perkins.

Student Senate

F.C.A.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a growing organization with a non-restrictive membership. Sharing the love of Jesus Christ among all people is their main goal. In February, the group represented the college at the F.C.A. College Advance in Nashville. Officers: Jeff Fuchs (P), Jay Malone (VP), David Henderson (VP), Mary Gaines (Sec), Angela Stinnett (Sec), and Michelle Arp (Outreach).

Student Foundation

The purpose of Student Foundation is to provide a link between prospective students and the campus community. Members work for the Admissions Office, performing various duties including conducting campus tours, housing students, and even stuffing envelopes. Members include: Jon Allison, Staci Ames, Kathy Anderson, Thomas Anderson, Cassie Burns, Sabrina Cefalii (Co-Chair), Jennifer Conn, Yvonne Constantino, Alan Ferguson, Laura Field, Janet Gehlbach, Mike Goodrich, Michelle Grube (Co-Chair), Andrea Hollis, Richard Marczi (Social Dir), Marcia Mena (Sec-Treas), Wendy Morris, John Rhoades, and Heather Smith (Ser Proj Dir).

CIV

To extend education beyond the classroom, MC scheduled an extensive program of lectures, presentations, and performances. Open to the students, faculty, staff, and the local residents, the series sought to enlighten the college community on critical issues. The issues included politics, religion, economics, social relations, international affairs, and the arts.

The Chicago Chamber Brass performance was a real "kick in the pants" for a delighted audience.

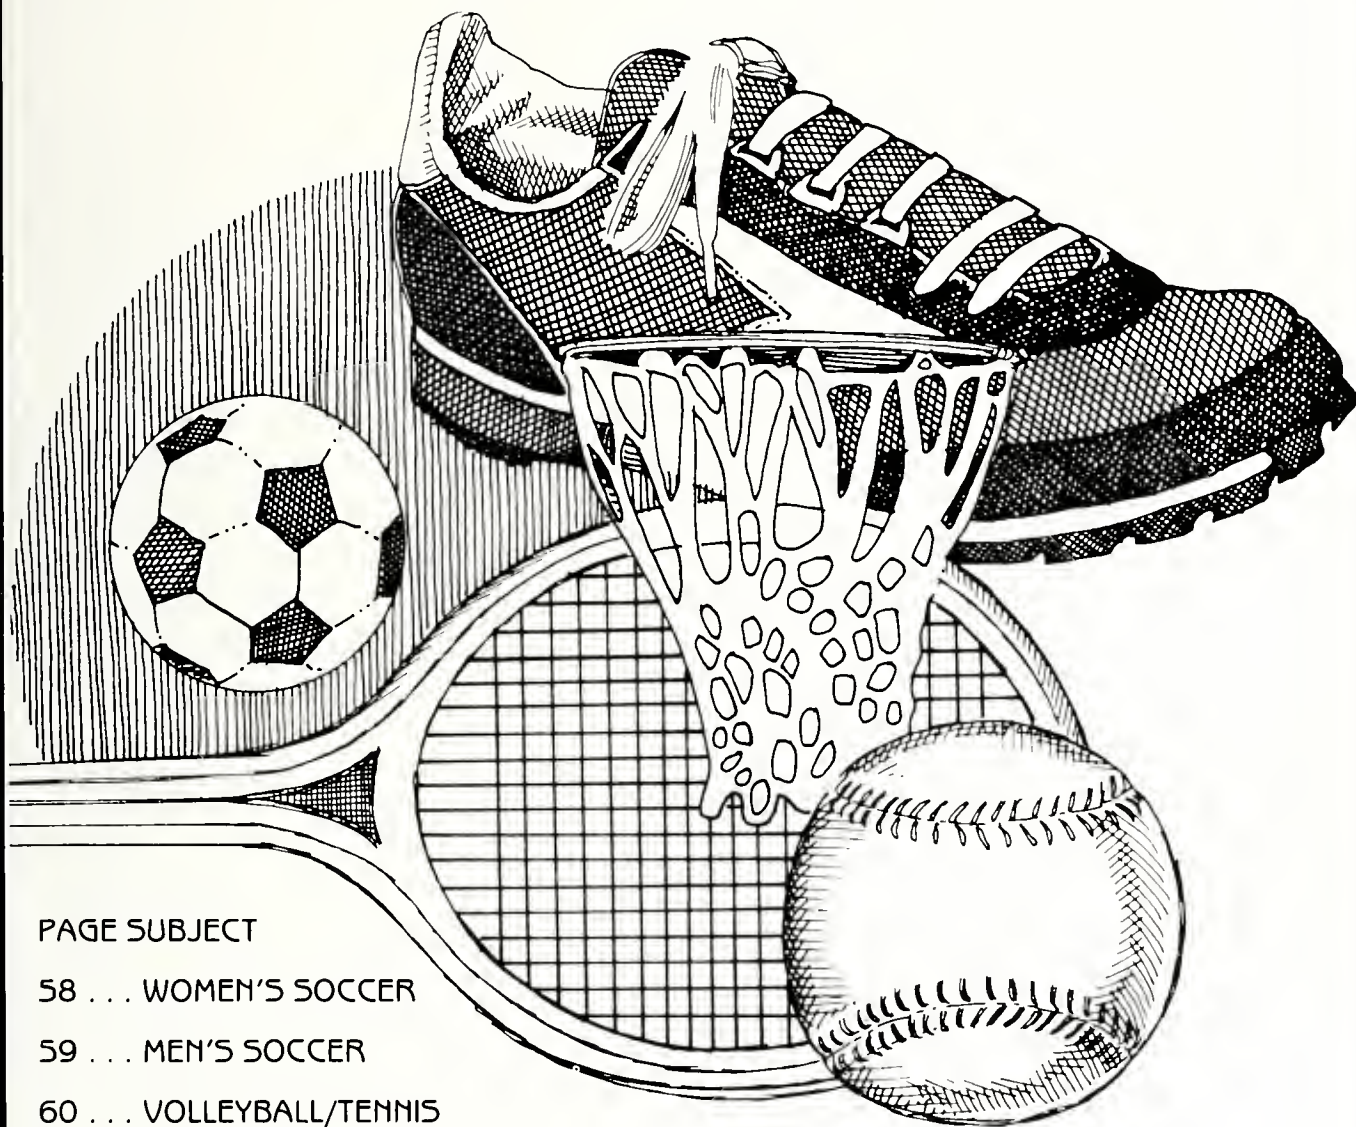

In the years prior to the Civil War, Dr. Isaac Anderson, founder of MC, annually led a series of special services at New Providence Presbyterian Church where he served as pastor. Following the war, the college continued to join the surrounding community in these yearly services and the tradition of February Meetings was born. From their official beginning on campus in 1877, "The Meetings" provided a spiritual center post for campus life. They offered distinctive opportunities for renewal and commitment to service. February Meetings 1989 continued this tradition by offering worship and learning experiences designed to sustain us in the development of mind, body, and spirit, and to challenge us to live for God and humankind. Rev Forrest Harris, the keynote speaker, held seminars and led worship during the meetings. Dixie Ditre presented a Fast Talk forum on the homeless. Faculty and staff provided a special treat by serving breakfast buffet style.

This is . . . the closest thing to a team picture available.

SCOTS SOCCER FIGHTING

As Enrique Rueda and Randy Evans compare legs . . . "Hey, Randy, my legs are bigger."
"Yeah, Enrique, but who has the ball?"

Maryville's player fights off his taller opponent in a foot race for the ball.

Goalie Henry Marambio flies high (and falls hard) as he defends a shot on goal.

The 1988-89 team had another good year under Coach Phil Neddo. The men were ranked on and off during the year in the Southern Region and narrowly (and to some inexplicably) missed an invitation to the NCAA Division III tournament. Assistant Coach Bakty Barker took over in the Spring after the resignation of Head Coach Phil Neddo.

The 1988-89 Lady Scots had the most successful season in women's basketball history at Maryville. The youthful team won the WIAC (conference) title and received a bid for post-season play. The Lady Scots hosted the 1989 NCAA Division III Women's South Region tournament. Despite an early loss in the tournament, the team showed the pride and determination that had brought them that far. Congratulations, ladies, on an excellent season!

The 1988-89 Fighting Scots were led by four seniors to a winning season once again. The seniors, Pat Heldman, Gary Andry, Dean Walsh, and Scott Fletcher, will be sorely missed. However, Coach Lambert has several underclassmen eager to fill those vacated positions and should look forward to another winning season next year.

This year's young team enjoyed success and suffered failures as they tried to pull the team together. Best of luck in the upcoming year!

SCOTS BASEBALL

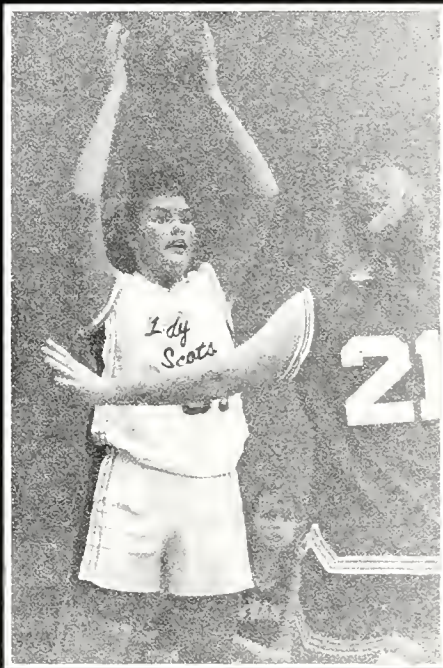

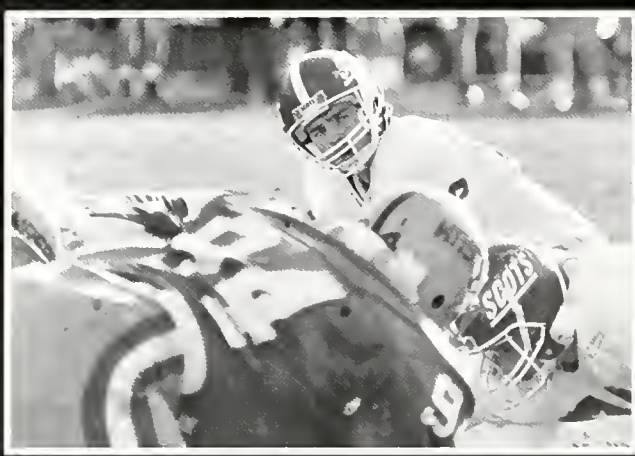

The 1988-89 Scots had one of the most successful seasons in Maryville's baseball past. They tied the record for the most victories in a season set by the 1974 team. This year's team, similar to the men's soccer team, narrowly missed a bid to post-season play after having an excellent season.

I realize that there are many things very wrong with the section, but I did the best I could with what I had. Candid shots were more scarce than anything I can think of. Please accept my sincerest apologies to those sports who did not get much coverage.

"My student trainers have done a great job this year. Their season lasts from August to May, and they have to put up with a lot of people that aren't easy to put up with, including me. So patience as well as training ability is a must (that and the ability to play basketball since we were Intramural Champs and we have to be champs again.") — Sharon Wood, ATC

FOR THOSE OF US BORN BEFORE 1945 . . . We are survivors!!! Consider the changes we have witnessed:

We were born before television, before penicillin, before polio shots, frozen foods, Xerox, plastic, contact lenses, Frisbees and "The Pill."

We were before radar, credit cards, split atoms, laser beams and ballpoint pens: before pantyhose, dishwashers, clothes dryers, electric blankets, air conditioners, drip-dry clothes — and before man walked on the moon.

We got married first and then lived together. How quaint can you be?

In our times, closets were for clothes, not for "coming out of." Bunnies were small rabbits and not Volkswagens. Designer Jeans were scheming girls named Jean or Jeanne, and having a meaningful relationship meant getting along well with our cousins.

We thought fast food was what you ate during Lent, and Outer Space was the back of the Riveria Theatre.

We were before house-husbands, gay rights, computer dating, dual careers, and commuter marriages. We were before day-care centers, group therapy and nursing homes. We never heard of FM radio, tape decks, electric typewriters, artificial hearts, word processors, yogurt, and guys wearing earrings. For us, time-sharing meant togetherness — not computers or condominiums; a "chip" meant a piece of wood: hardware meant hardware: and software wasn't even a word!

In 1940, "made in Japan" meant JUNK and the term "making out" referred to how you did on your exam. "McDonald's" and instant coffee were unheard of.

We hit the scene when there were 5&10¢ stores where you bought things for five and ten cents. Sanders and Wilson sold ice cream cones for a nickel or a dime. For one nickel you could ride a street car, make a phone call, buy a Pepsi or enough stamps to mail one letter and two postcards. You could buy a new Chevy Coupe for $600, but who could afford one: a pity, too, because gas was 11¢ a gallon!!!!

In our day, CIGARETTE smoking was fashionable, GRASS was mowed, COKE was a cold drink, and POT was something you cooked in. ROCK MUSIC was Grandma's lullaby and AIDS were helpers in the Principal's office.

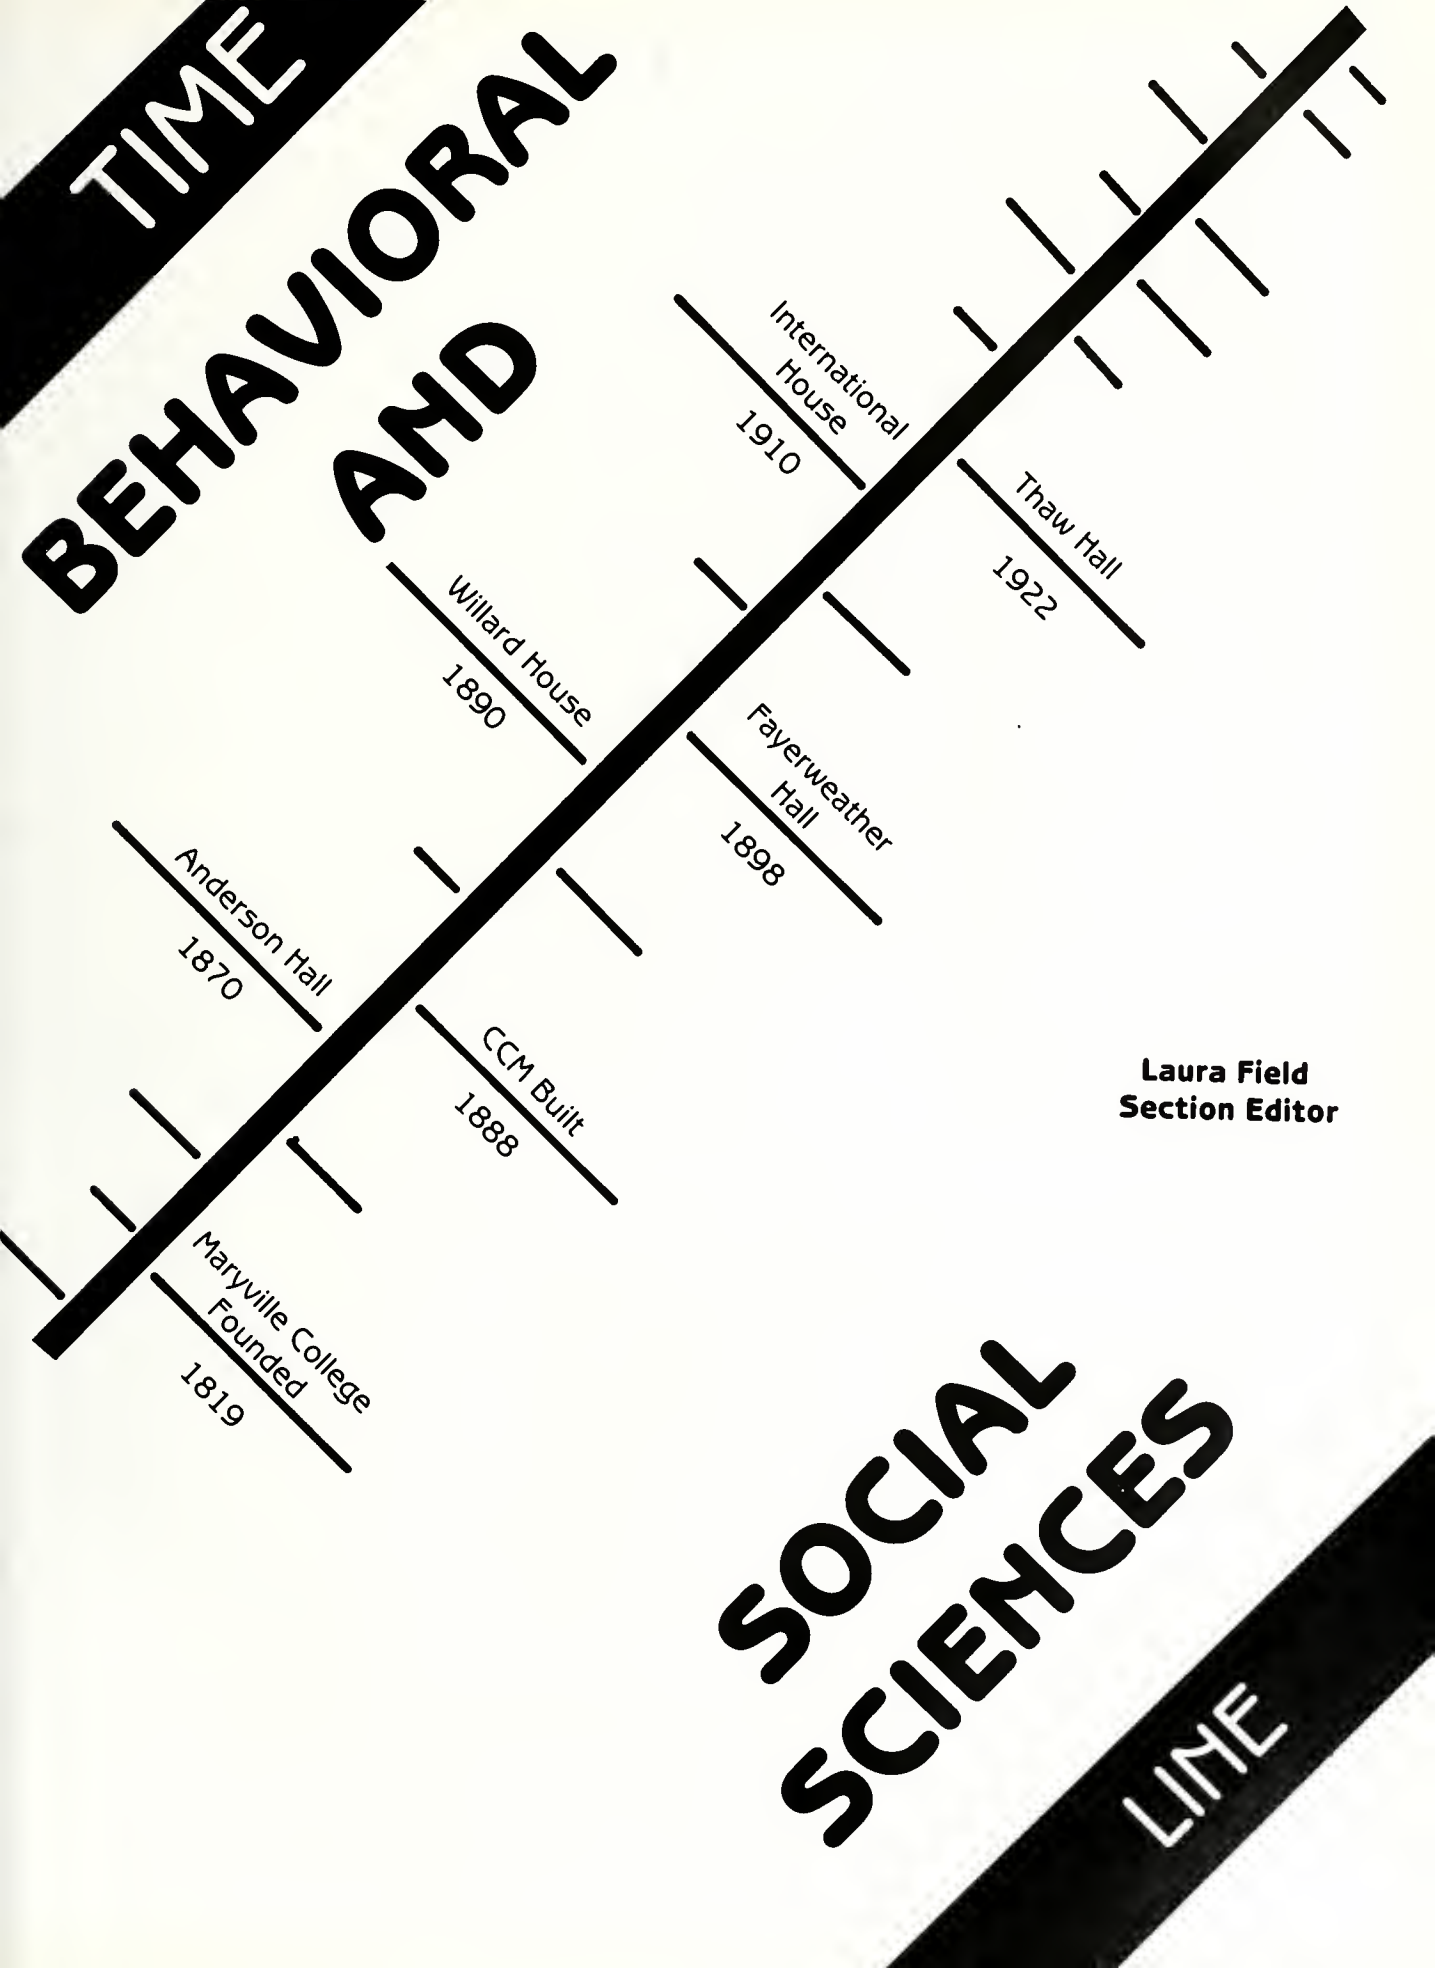

We were certainly not before the difference between the sexes was discovered, but we were surely before the sex change: we made do with what we had. And we were the last generation that was so dumb as to think you needed a husband to have a baby!

No wonder we are so confused and there is such a generation gap today!!!

UNITED NATIONS

On January 25-28, 1989, members of the UN went to Auburn, Alabama to participate in a "model" United Nations Conference. Jon Allison, Jim Rice and Kipp Martinez represented Bulgaria; Brian Austin, Darrell Franklin, Steve Ledman, and Denise Franklin represented Ethiopia; Missy Pankake, Martin Capetz, and Chris Varner represented Romania. Our MC students brought home honors ... Ethiopia received an award for "Best Minor Power" while Romania received the "Honorable Mention" for Best Minor Power.

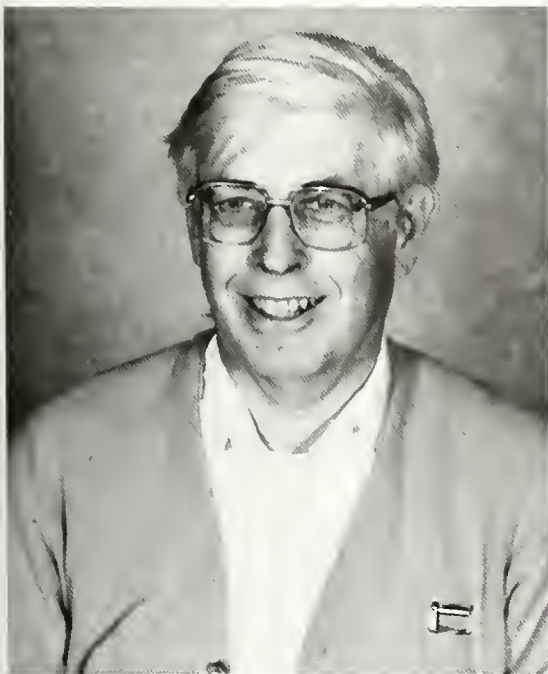

THE PEACE EDUCATION TASK FORCE constructed a cardboard "home" to illustrate the life of homelessness, making the whole campus aware that this is a community issue requiring united effort.

The clowning ministry, Fools for Christ, just began this year. This new organization performs skits that express the word of God. A major performance in 1989 was April 1st for the Presbyterian Youth Day. Pictured: Karen Schubert, Cassie Burns, Sara Townsend, Laura Field. "Congratulations — SENIORS!"

To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:

A time to be born,
and a time to die;

A time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;

A time to kill,
and a time to heal;

A time to break down,
and a time to build up;

A time to weep,
and a time to laugh;

A time to mourn,
and a time to dance;

A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together;

A time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing;

A time to get,
and a time to lose;

A time to keep, and
a time to cast away;

A time to reap,
and a time to sew;

A time to keep silence,
and a time to speak;

A time to love,

Summa Cum Laude

Rebecca Walker and Jennifer Worth

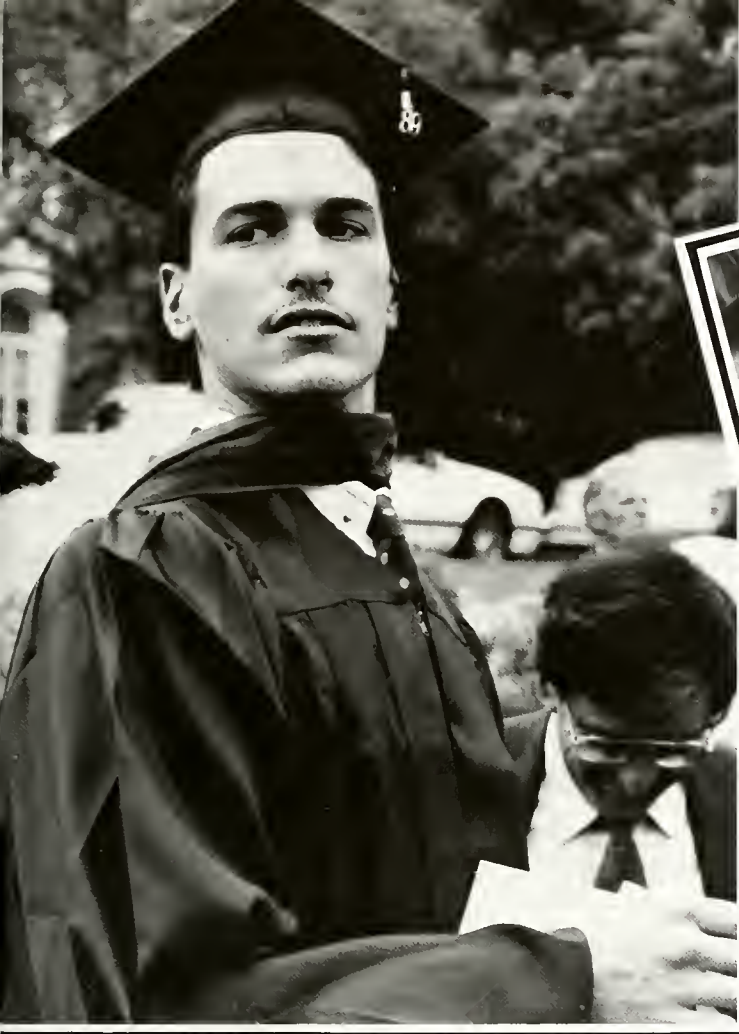

Between the cheers and tears, family and professors, memories and dreams yet-to-be . . . there is bittersweet joy at this cross-section of life.

A grand, long-awaited finale. An exciting, hope-filled commencement.

To 1989 Seniors: May honor and respect be your guides, happiness and fulfillment your goals as you cross this threshold into the "real" world.

A hoary head is a crown of glory if it is found in the way of righteousness.

Q: Dealines and Headlines! How have deadlines affected you at Maryville?

A: Academically and physically. Academically, because a B paper would be turned in late and become a C paper. Physically, because the time and energy for deadlines was exhausting. I spent many nights researching at the library. A research paper's sources are very time-consuming. To be on time, I must be a very good organizer to structure my time which is important to accomplish what I want in the real world. — Kayoko Nagakura

Q: What have you found out about life since you've been at Maryville?

A. No goals are too high since all you have to do is picture yourself reaching the goals in your mind and the rest will be a piece of cake. — Chris Kaijser

Q: Describe tradition as it applies to the band or music department.

A: The Band wore kilts because of our heritage. Mr. Hoeffcker, a former Band Director, obtained the uniforms from a company that specializes in Scottish uniforms.

The choir robes were handmade by a group of women as a result of a fire that swept through Wilson Chapel and destroyed the robes of the past. The Celtic crosses on the robes represent the affiliation of the Presbyterian Church and Maryville College. I really enjoyed the years in band and choir. — Mia Brown

Q: When you came to Maryville, and over the years you have been here, what have you found out about Maryville?

A: Nothing is ever certain at Maryville College, except for tuition increases accompanied by less financial aid, and a lack of substantial entertainment. — Henry Marambio

Q: Describe tradition as it applies to basketball. In your opinion, explain how basketball supports the school, and what is its tradition?

Many Thanks!!

Every year the editor gets (takes) space to thank various persons for undying support and to remark on the tremendous amount of effort needed to produce this collage of college life.

So it's my turn . . . thanks to my great staff for learning with me and gritting your teeth and persevering when it got tough . . . thanks to Christi Brown for your super theme suggestion . . . thanks to Dick Henson and "LB" Butts for talking me into accepting editorship and for me pushing onward when I got weary (it really does take a lot of energy) . . . special thanks to my family who has helped me in numerous ways from sweeping to proofing quad-paks (I love you!) . . . and last but not least I thank the Lord for enabling me to attempt this task at all. It is not perfect — but life seldom is . . . The best we can hope for is to try — succeed — try — fail — and try again. WE TRIED VERY HARD.

This yearbook is dedicated to those who died in China fighting for something we practice so easily in this country . . . freedom of voice. May we always remember that everthing has a price. God Bless.

-Jana Dalton

WELCOME . . .

We are the new generation.
Entering the façade they call
the "real world".

But "forever" and the "real" world are potions digested by the willingly disillusioned.
Like "pre-recorded live"
these are made for TV ideas that are censored for flaws, pain, reality.

We are the new breed,
facing AIDS,
nuclear arms reduction,
and homelessness.
There is no time for illusion.

We are the small communities,
the little people,
sprawling across lands
and waters, to join hands. Ready to face the horrors
and the blessings;
the errors past
with our own hope.

We cannot be conned
by jargon.
The "real world"
is not a perfect equation away.

It is now. Today.
It is the tears hot on our faces
as we depart from here.
It is the knotted, elated feeling as we grow up, grow wiser.

And how we live today separates us from the soap-opera imitations.

We are the new generation . . .
Perhaps we are unkempt,
without make-up or props,
but we are prepared.
Donning proven values
as armor to challenge the days,
the lives ahead.

Welcome to the Real World . . .
